Office of Publication—Second Street, between Houston and Throckmorton. Entered at the Postoffice as Second-Class Matter.

SUNDAY MORNING, JULY 27.

CHURCH NOTICES.

Services at the First Baptist church, both morning and evening, conducted by the Rev. W. E. Tynes of Colorado City.

Rev. Moore will preach at the Fourth Street Methodist church this morning at 11 o'clock and at the usual hour in the evening, the pastor being absent.

Editor C. C. Cline will deliver the first two of a series of Sunday-school lectures at the Christian church today at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. A full attendance from all the Sunday-schools of the city is desired.

Gospel text of the Union Congregational church, corner Seventh and Houston streets, Rev. W. C. McNamee will preach at night, No service at 11 o'clock. Prayer meeting Wednesday night.

South side Baptist church, J. R. Gillespie, pastor—services morning and night, at the usual hours, at their hall opposite E. M. Wells drug store, South Houston street, Sunday-school at 9:30 a. m. Prayer meeting Wednesday night.

St. Paul's M. E. church, corner of Main and Ninth streets, P. M. Bodin, pastor—Sunday-school at 9:30 a. m., Prof. P. M. White superintendent. Preaching at 11 a. m. by Rev. J. A. Johnson of Hartsburg, at 5:30 p. m. by the pastor. Strangers always welcome to worship with us.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. J. T. Pettus of this place is visiting friends in Aurora, Texas.

T. A. Smith of Ennis has accepted a position in McVeigh's ice cream parlor on Main street.

Miss Lou Farris is quite ill with fever at the family residence, corner of West First and Florence streets.

Misses Blanche Hartsfield and Eula Williams are visiting friends in Bonham. They will return in about ten days.

S. F. Judy, general yard master of the Gould system in this city, starts to Galveston today on a brief pleasure trip. He is accompanied by his wife.

Mr. David Branson, one of Charlotte's popular young men, leaves tonight for Fort Worth, Tex., where he goes to establish himself in business as a commission merchant and broker.

He carries with him a good name and an unimpeachable reputation for strict business integrity, and when he arrives at Fort Worth, that city will receive one of North Carolina's best young men. We wish our young friend abundant success and hope he will come back someday rich in this world's goods.—(Charlotte (N. C.) Observer.)

THIRD AND FOURTH WARDS

102° in the shade today.

T. A. Murphy and lady of Weatherford are in the city.

It was rumored last night that a social society of some kind was organized on the South side Friday night. We wish the investigators a successful career.

The Fourth ward had her usual round-up yesterday. The officers are diligent in the performance of their duties, although they cannot wholly repel this nuisance.

Mrs. J. M. Hudson, wife of the genial "doctor," left yesterday for Victoria, their future home. The doctor follows soon. While we regret to lose them, yet we rejoice at their prosperity.

The new drug store in the Riddleman block in the Fourth ward is rapidly nearing completion as to shelving, etc., and Mr. O. M. Waterhouse, the genial proprietor, will soon greet his customer.

Manager Winn is highly praised by those who work under him in the New York office of the Texas & Pacific railway here. Although young, Mr. Winn is an able railroad man—being wholly fitted for the position he holds—and an excellent operator.

Rumor had it yesterday that Mr. E. B. Harold had sold his property on the South side for $25,000 and would soon quit our city, removing with his family to Colorado City. We deeply regret the loss of so able and noted a citizen as Mr. H., though we welcome his successor.

Mortally Wounded.

KEMP, July 26.—A sad affair happened Thursday night at Reed's mill in this county. A Mr. Schroder having missed money from his cash drawer placed a loaded pistol to the drawer so it would fire if tampered with. He found in the morning the drawer open and the pistol empty. A young man by the name of John Buchanan was found mortally wounded to-day.

A Rare Opportunity.
We are authorized by a member of the firm to say that while Fakes & Co. are here to stay, and are not offering any job lots of furniture below cost to close out their stock, and while they are not panic-stricken and obliged to raise money by sales of furniture at a sacrifice, they are, in order to make 100 per cent on the immense stock ordered and on the road, giving prices heretofore unknown among furniture dealers of Northwest Texas. Their stock is not surpassed in the state for quality and variety, and their goods were bought from first hands at inside figures. For anyone who wishes a set of furniture for less money than the same goods were ever before bought in St. Louis this special sale is a rare opportunity, and this fact is realized by the people and they have commenced to move in the matter. urged the necessity of passing an ordinance to compel people to connect their closets with the sewers where possible. Those who cannot make sewer connection should be compelled to use water-tight boxes and a disinfectant like ashes or earth, which would absorb the moisture, and that some one should be employed to look carefully after these boxes and perform such other duties as were necessary.

Dr. W. A. Adams stated that he was a committee appointed to examine the water of the city, and that he had examined a great deal and found organic matter in every instance. If the citizens would look after the water supply and keep germs from water-barels many cases of preventable diseases would be avoided. He said he was a strong advocate of thorough surface drainage, and that too much care could not be bestowed upon this subject. He urged the council to use their power in giving the city a better system of surface drainage than it now has.

Dr. H. W. Moore stated that he had charge of the practice at the jail and up to the time the water works had commenced to supply water to the city the prisoners had used artesian water, and their health had been reasonably good, but since the prisoners had begun to use river water there had at all times been from five to six cases of sickness in the jail which could be attributed to the use of river water. He did not think that the water could be cleansed of disease germs by percolating through a distance of gravel; that the medical association had at a recent meeting thought it practicable to offer the association for the city council to draw a board of health from to act in conjunction with the city board of health, with the view of advancing the sanitary condition of the city.

The doctor spoke of the milk supply which he said almost invariably contained water which was obtained where disease germs could easily get into it, and stated that the idea was that it was the duty of the city council to appoint some one to inspect the milk supply, and that the board of health would do all in its power to reach the desired end of giving the city pure milk.

Dr. Moore also spoke of the sewers and of a conference he had had with Dr. Beall on the subject. Concluding he stated that the call for sanitary regulations was just the same as though cholera were in our midst; that there was to-day more cholera fever than there had been in two years, and surely there was some cause for this increase. He spoke of a case behind a barber shop where a sewer connection had been stopped for two weeks and of a large mass of decayed vegetable matter in the sewer, and that he did not arrest the guilty parties but tried to find them. The speaker said that something should be done so as to allow the arrest of the occupants where there is a nuisance on the premises.

Dr. Broiles spoke against the use of cisterns, and said citizens should not be allowed to use water which in all probability was poisoned by disease germs. He said the physician who prevents disease was entitled to more praise than the one who successfully treats the disease after it arises.

A discussion arose upon the sewer system, in which all joined, though no one could be found with the system except through the history of other cities.

Alderman Askew said he favored the effort to cause the citizens to make sewer connections; that the ordinances on the books were sufficient to meet the demands of the occasion if they were properly enforced.

Mayor Smith said of the cholera that it was one of the most affected by it; that limestone formations would convey disease germs better than any other formation; that he did not think the water works could obtain an adequate supply of artesian water to provide for the wants of the city, which is now about 2,000,000 gallons per day. His honor favors the putting down of the case demanded it, and gave some suggestions as to how it should be done. He regretted that fault had been found with the sewer system, which sanitary engineers had pronounced first-class. He did not know how anything further could be done by the council, but he argued how the citizens could make ample precautions against sewer gas by using the system properly. As to the ordinances he saw no way to enforce sanitary regulations except to compel every occupant to keep his premises clean, that no man should hesitate to complain of a neighbor who is violating the ordinances.

Dr. H. W. Moore said the Medical association was not here to make war upon the sewer system, but that the physicians came to offer suggestions and their services in so doing; that one thing was certain, and that was that the city is in a very filthy condition, and this should be remedied.

Mayor Smith said the people must keep their premises clean.

Dr. Broiles urged that special policemen should be appointed for the purpose of notifying parties who violate the ordinances of the sanitary regulations of the city.

Alderman Flanagan said our policemen were the best in the state and had more than they could attend to. Capt. Alexander asked a few questions and said Fort Worth was comparatively a clean city. He stated that he thought the physicians should make an address to the citizens, which would probably cause them to use greater precaution.

Alderman Hughes stated that surface drainage was badly needed on the South side.

All the physicians spoke of the necessity of keeping water barrels covered or closed, in order to keep out disease germs which are constantly
